Soviets Remove Army Rule Over East Germany

LONDON (AP) — Moscow today removed its Army commander in East Germany from all duties except command of Soviet troops and appointed a Russian "supreme commissar" to supervise governmental affairs of the Soviet-occupied zone.

Moscow radio, announcing this, said the Soviet Control Commission in Germany is now abolished.

The announcement said the Soviet Council of Ministers had "decreed the abolition of the Soviet Control Commission in Germany and the freeing of the supreme commander of Soviet troops from performing duties of control in the German democratic republic."

The announcement said Vladimir Semenov, a member of the Soviet Foreign Minister Collegium, had been appointed supreme commissar.

The new commissar will "watch over the activity of authoritative organs of the German democratic republic from the point of view of their fulfillment of undertakings arising from the Potsdam decisions of the Allied powers in Germany."

He also will maintain "appropriate relations with representatives of the occupational powers of the U.S.A., Britain and France on questions of a general nature arising from agreed decisions on Germany."

Governor And GOP Leaders Tangle Over New State Tax

TRENTON (AP) — Taxes being the most touchy of all political issues, Governor Williams and his Republican adversaries bucked each other today for public approval of their stands on Michigan's new business receipts tax law.

Gov. Williams, realizing the tax may be a big issue in elections to come, went all out to make it clear that he was letting the tax bill become law without his signature.

In one-two order, the governor and a state-sized version of the Republican "truth squad" took to the air over a string of radio stations Wednesday night to make their arguments known.

Here, briefly, is what they said:

Gov. Williams—the bill was "conceived in secrecy, drafted in haste and adopted in ignorance of its contents." It was "written by lobbyists and tax attorneys for a few business interests," it is "full of inequities and obscurities" and "some of its language is positively ungrammatical; other sections may be unconstitutional." Its principal merit is that it "is not a tax on salaries and wages" and it "is not a direct burden on consumers."

Little Fellow Exempt

Senators George N. Higgins (Ferndale), Carlton H. Morris (Kalamazoo) and Speaker of the House Wade Van Valkenburg were "a good, sound tax bill."

"It means," he said, "that the schools, the colleges, the state police, the mental hospitals, the prison system and all the other phases of state government will have enough money on which to employ professional people and farmers with gross receipts of over $10,000 a year will be taxed 4¢ of one per cent (four mills) after a deduction of 50 per cent for operating expenses. More is allowed for expenses if they run above 50 per cent. Labor costs and depreciation are not deductible expenses.

Gov. Williams announced Wednesday that he was letting the bill become law without his signature. That happens if he doesn't sign or veto within 10 days. Six days already have passed.

Veto Avoided

The governor said he wouldn't veto the bill because the state "is very near to bankruptcy" and the measure "will ensure some additional revenue to stave off financial disaster."

In his radio speech he declared:

"Those who drafted it in secrecy, and forced it through the legislature without adequate consideration, must bear the full responsibility before the people."

But Senator Higgins called it "a good, sound tax bill."

"It means," he said, "that the schools, the colleges, the state police, the mental hospitals, the prison system and all the other phases of state government will have enough money on which to

Congressmen Approve Slash In Foreign Aid; More Cuts Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some congressmen greeted an administration cut of $34 million dollars in foreign aid requests as a step in the right direction today, but several served notice they expected still further reductions.

The 354-million-dollar slice off next year's Mutual Security program was submitted by William M. Rand, acting Mutual Security director, as "savings" from current funds to be credited to fiscal 1954 appropriations.

Military Aid Leads

Rep. Ford (R-Mich.), a member of the House Appropriations Committee, called the action "encouraging," but declared "Congress itself should relentlessly pursue opportunities for further reductions."

Chairman Taber (R-NY) said the appropriations committee wasn't going to accept "the same old plugs" for foreign spending until the Mutual Security Administration came up with "some intelligent justifications" for the administration's revised foreign aid budget of $5,474,000,000.

Congress granted MSA approximately six billion dollars for the present fiscal year ending June 30, the bulk of it for military assistance in Europe and the Far East.

Billions Unspent

As of April 1, Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen had roughly $11,800,000,000 in his till as unexpended funds. Of this amount, roughly $4,200,000,000 was still unobligated, although MSA says most of it has been programmed for specified contracts.

Rand Wednesday notified Congress of the savings from unspent appropriations in letters to Chairman Chiperfield (R-III) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Taft declared Tuesday night in a speech read at another meeting that this country "might as well forget the United Nations as far as the Korean War is concerned."

He said the nation should do its best to negotiate a truce in Korea "and if we fail, let England and our other allies know that we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

In an interview after the meeting Humphrey called Taft's speech "very unfortunate." He added that the Korean War "is the first example of collective security at work, and we must make it work to its fulfillment. I have faith that we'll win these negotiations."

Although Sen. Tobey declined to comment directly on the Taft proposal, the 72-year-old New Englander declared in his address that the United States should continue to back the U.N. "in its endeavor to attain peace." Opponents to the U.N. he said, have offered no workable substitute.

South Koreans Spurn New Truce Bid, Charge Sellout

Allies Worried About Change In U.S. War Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Worried Allied diplomats wondered today whether the Republican administration may seriously consider radical changes in Far Eastern policies if Korean truce talks collapse.

Their concern stems from efforts to measure the ultimate impact on future decisions by President Eisenhower of ideas which Senate Majority Leader Taft put forth in a speech read for him in Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Might Sever Ties

At Vancouver, B.C., Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson said if Taft's advice "became U.S. policy it would be deplorable and a terrible blow to the United Nations."

Taft said if armistice negotiations fail the U.S. should tell England and other Allied nations "we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

He also asserted the U.S. "might as well abandon any idea of working with the United Nations in the East and reserve to ourselves a completely free hand."

These and related proposals he made appeared to diplomats here to suggest a change of direction and a severing of ties between the U.S. and its allies which the Eisenhower administration has so far generally observed and practiced.

Timing Bad

The proposals come from a powerful figure in the governing party, moreover, at a time when truce negotiations are in what may prove to be the showdown stage and the need for new decisions may be almost at hand.

Taft's speech found no endorsement from his colleagues on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who were willing to comment. One of them, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said it "may have torpedoed chances for a truce in Korea . . . and it may even have thrown a harpoon into the Big Three talks in Bermuda."

President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Churchill and the French Premier are scheduled to meet in Bermuda next month.

"I can't understand the very bad timing in this thing," Sparkman said in an interview. "Communist Russia has been trying to drive a wedge between the United Nations Allies, and now Sen. Taft's speech appears to do it for them."

He called the Taft speech "a diametrical contradiction" of Eisenhower's policy—a point certain to be raised today at the President's news conference.

Once in the campaign, she and her family and friends carried on a real old-fashioned house-to-house canvass. When Roz led nine candidates in the primary, she knew she was on the right path.

tries to expand deliveries of output to the Soviet Union.

3—State ration-free stores are selling only what's on the shelves and are receiving no new shipments.

The air of poverty has frightened the East German population anew. After weeks of slowing down, the flow of refugees to the West has suddenly leaped into big figures again. Four thousand showed up in West Berlin Wednesday. Almost 5,000 came across the border over last weekend.

Wright complained that he suffered a brain concussion when the actor hit him at a 1951 New Year's Eve party.

Cochran, 36, gave this version of the affair:

The trouble started when Wright's brother, Marshall, 34, and another man crashed his party.

After an argument, the visitors left, but returned with Buddy Wright.

Cochran walked toward the newcomer, and Wright raised clenched fists to a fighting position.

A softball bat was in the study close at hand where the actor had placed it following a workout in preparation for a hoped-for role in a baseball picture.

"I knew Buddy Wright was an ex-fighter . . . and I hit him with the bat in self-defense," Cochran said.

The new stream of refugees stems directly from the fear of hunger, inspired by the recent Soviet grab policy.

Official Allied quarters contend that East Germany produces enough food to feed its population well and can also take care of the 300,000-man Red Army, which it has been feeding in style since the Korean War.

The report was made public at a news conference by Sen. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee which had requested it.

Mundt said the report leaves "the next step up to the British now." He said it answers their contentions that prior testimony concerning the ship incidents was too vague.

WESK Asks City For Tower Site

The Escanaba Planning Commission may be called into special meeting soon to consider a request of representatives of WESK, new radio station proposed for Escanaba, to purchase or lease a tower site from the city.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said representatives of WESK from Marinette, Wis., said they believed a site 300 by 300 feet on city-owned land near Sheridan Road and north of the ore docks would be suitable for the antenna tower they propose to erect.

The request will be considered first by the Planning Commission in connection with its study of uses for the area and a recommendation will then be made to the Council.

The city manager said WESK representative told him they have been unable to obtain a suitable site within the city limits on private property.

This afternoon the city's Board of Appeals will hear an application by the Delta Broadcasting Company, which operates WDWB, to enlarge its present building at Sand Point. The building is on land leased from the city.

Speakers Tell How Auto Thief Is Born

By LLOYD WOLFE

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—A dark summer night, and a gang of teenagers roams the city streets looking for thrills. One says, "I dare ya swipe that car!"

The other looks around helplessly, dodging the mocking stares of his buddies, trying to escape from the laughing whisper, "chicken!" "Okay," he says, "I'll show ya!"

Another car thief is born.

Figures presented at the first annual convention of the International Association of Auto Theft Investigators, reveal the average age of an auto thief in this country is 18.

Report Lights And Wire Stolen From City And Industry

Escanaba police have received reports that 38 industrial lights and 1,000 feet of copper wire and other items have been stolen from the city and the Northern Motor Builders, it was revealed today.

City Manager A. V. Aronson reported 38 fluorescent lights have been taken from the city-owned Solar building on First Ave. N., which is being readied for occupancy by Northern Motor Builders. There were no tubes in the fixtures.

Capt. J. F. Daniels of the Dallas, Tex., police department, newly elected president of the organization, estimated 70 per cent of stolen autos are swiped by teen-agers on a lark.

Daniels urges motorists to lock their doors.

"I don't think the average kid would knock out a window glass and take a chance on someone hearing the noise just for a joy ride."

Davis took auto manufacturers to task, contending "too many late model cars do not have adequately protected ignition systems."

Strike Ended By Carpenters

The carpenters strike has ended with an agreement to increase the hourly rate for carpenters to $2.35, an increase of 15 cents.

The carpenters had demanded 10¢ an hour wage increase plus an additional 5¢ in fringe benefits. The contractors previously had offered 10¢ an hour.

Yesterday the U. P. Contractors Association and the Cloverland District Association of the Carpenters Union met at the Mather Inn, Ishpeming, and agreed on a straight 15¢ an hour increase. No funds will be allocated for fringe benefits.

Attending the meeting in addition to the negotiators was James Despins, of the U. S. Mediation Service.

Individual contractors are now signing contracts with their local unions. Some local carpenters have already returned to their jobs. A full scale back to work movement is anticipated by Monday.

The strike started May 11 and forced a shutdown of virtually all construction in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Urge X-Ray For Young And Old

Anyone over 15 years of age will have the opportunity to have a free chest X-ray to determine whether they have tuberculosis when the Michigan Department of Health mobile X-ray units come to Delta county starting June 2.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the local health district, today declared that it is important for young people, as well as older persons, to have a chest X-ray made.

"Many young people in the Senior High School age group have never had chest X-rays," Dr. Harrison pointed out. "To control tuberculosis it is necessary to detect it early. We urge these young people over 15 to take advantage of the free chest examination when the unit comes to their community."

'Right To Know' Is Press Topic

CHICAGO — The preservation of the public's "right to know" as guaranteed by the United States Constitution depends more on newspapermen than on any other group, it was emphasized at the 69th spring meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association here this week.

J. R. Wiggins, managing editor and vice president of the Washington (D. C.) Post, told publishers and newspaper executives representing 500 dailies that closed court proceedings and closed committee hearings in Congress and legislature infringe the public's right to freedom of information.

"It is not enough to tell the newspapers what happened after a secret meeting," he declared. "The public needs to be in on the discussions themselves. Newspapermen are representatives of the public."

Inlanders were told by Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense, that Russia's war potential has slipped in spite of its enormous armies and growing air and sea fleets. Kyes was the principal speaker at the closing luncheon session.

"Russia needs oil, raw materials, transportation and fabricating facilities before it can assume the risk of sustained war," Kyes said.

The former General Motors executive stoutly defended the administration's cutback defense program as the most effective and efficient way to get military strength "without weakening the economic body that supports it."

Among those attending the Inland meeting was James G. Ward, general manager of the Escanaba (Mich.) Daily Press, who conducted a newspaper study and analysis session for publishers in the 10,000 to 25,000 circulation group.

In this session, executives representing newspapers in Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan analyzed each other's newspapers in detail in all phases of operation. Greater reader and advertiser service and more efficient practices were emphasized.

Eisenhower Administration Has Done Well In Its First 4 Months

THE Eisenhower Administration has been in power for four months—a sufficient period of time to give Congress, the commentators, and the public at large a good idea of its objectives and methods. Much discussion is going the rounds as to how it has done thus far.

The consensus is that the President's popular standing is as high as it was at the time of his election—perhaps even higher. He has improved materially as a speaker, and he presents his thoughts with greater clarity and precision. He has a happy and rare combination of friendliness and dignity. His continued stress on traditional, old-fashioned ideals and principles has evoked the warmest kind of response in the hearts and minds of millions of people.

He has enjoyed a genuine "honeymoon" with a Congress which is narrowly divided between the parties and this happy relationship is continuing. All the basic elements in his legislative program seem almost certain of approval, though there will be delays—the President and his team are learning that in government, results can't be attained nearly as quickly as in military and business life. There has been little really bitter Congressional criticism of his Administration or himself. For the most part, debate over controversial issues has been conducted on a high plane.

Where and when the Administration has shown weakness, it generally has been due to political inexperience—no one in the top group ever held a top federal position before. To take on example, the early furor over the stock holdings of certain Cabinet appointees, and the period of confusion that followed, seemed largely due to ignorance or misunderstanding of an old law. To take another, some of the Cabinet members obviously felt that reorganization of their departments could be accomplished in jg time, whereas, due to Civil Service, patronage, and other such forces it is a long-term job. To take a third, administration members on occasion have wounded Congressional sensibilities because of a lack of knowledge of the unwritten laws of protocol and custom that are jealously upheld by both House and Senate.

In helping the Eisenhower Administration make its unavoidable adjustments to the realities of political life, the man who was his foremost opponent for the nomination has done yeoman service—the able and complex senior Senator from Ohio, Robert A. Taft. No one living, in all probability, knows as much about how the government operates, or is as adroit at getting things done. Almost everyone once predicted an early Taft-Eisenhower split. Now it looks as if the two men have reached a firm working and personal relationship. Dissimilar as they are in many ways, their basic principles are much the same. Senator Taft has said that he will not attempt to get the presidential nomination again, and that he expects President Eisenhower to be the victorious 1956 candidate. He is devoting himself to making this Republican Administration a success. In prestige and influence he is second only to the President himself, and he is much more skillful in political dealings.

To sum up the general view, the Administration is doing excellently—and all the future auguries are favorable.

The Barbiturate Danger

A N article in Today's Health, a publication of the American Medical Association, warns against the excessive or improper use of barbiturates.

Written by Donald A. Dukelow, the article says that in 1951 more than 688,000 pounds of these drugs were produced—enough to put every man, woman and child in the nation to sleep for 20 days if administered in the usual dosage. It is estimated that more than half of the huge barbiturate production is distributed through illegitimate channels for non-medical purposes.

When used properly, under a physician's supervision, barbiturates are of great value and can prevent much suffering. But, as is true of most habit-forming drugs, improper use can lead to destruction of the victim's personality, crime, and even death.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Let us hope that none of the readers of this column has ever had or will ever have occasion to be "in durance vile," as the poet calls imprisonment, but it harms no one to know some of the terms used for a prison or jail.

Oddly enough, the more popular of the American terms are of Spanish origin. Just why that should be is not within my realm of study. Perhaps the Spanish names, reaching us from the Southwest, were more picturesque and appealed to the imagination.

First there is hoosgow or hoosegow, abridged in criminal slang to gow. To say that this comes from the Spanish word juzgado seems absurd, as the two words look nothing alike. But to Americans along the Mexican border where the term came into our language, that was the way they heard it. In Mexican Spanish, "j" had the sound of "h," "z" of "s," the soft "d" was not heard, and "o" was combined with the broad "a" into the sound of "ow."

The Spanish word means "court of justice," but in Mexico the court of justice was equivalent to jail, which was the meaning brought into the United States.

Then there is the older term, calaboose. Though hoosgow came to us comparatively recently, calaboose came into the language more than a hundred and sixty years ago from the Spanish settlements in the South. The original term was calabozo, but no explanation has yet been devised which would disclose why that should have meant a dungeon, or, with us, a jail.

From France we owe that fact that a prison is sometimes known among prisoners as bastile (bas-TEEL), also spelled bastille. The explanation is not hard to find. This term, originally given to any fortified tower, became applied specifically, in the fourteenth century, to the large castle or fortress which became a notorious prison, used chiefly for political offenders. It was demolished during the first French Revolution (1789).

Latin has given us limbo (from limbus, edge). The explanation lies in theology, from the belief that there is a region between heaven and hell in which certain souls are confined. This belief led to the use of limbo as a term for any place into which persons or things are committed when no longer of service, and therefore, a jail or prison for people put aside by society.

The Doctor Says . . .

Don't Let Children Keep On Wearing Outgrown Shoes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.—Written for NEA Service

It is often said that the basis for good health in later life is laid during childhood. With this I agree emphatically, and nowhere is it more important than in the care of the feet. The person who hobbies around in middle age with flat feet, bunions, or other foot difficulties, can often trace the source to mistakes in shoeing during the earlier years of life.

The two most important things about the care of the feet are the proper fitting of shoes and suitable exercise so that the muscles and ligaments of the feet will have normal tone and circulation and maintain their arches.

The shoes should be neither too large nor too small. This, however, is a difficult and expensive problem when the size of the foot is constantly changing as it is in childhood. But in spite of this, shoes should not be worn after they have been outgrown and the big toe presses into the toe.

FOOT-HEALTH RULES

The National Foot Health Council recommends the following foot-health rules:

Bathe the feet daily, using a good soap,

after the foot bath use powder on the feet and in the shoes and hose; wear shoes that are roomy and have flexible leather at the toes; prevent foot infections; don't put shoes on without hose; don't walk barefooted on floors or pavements; have your feet examined at least once a year;

man can help the mother to find a properly fitting shoe.

So far as exercise is concerned, most children avoid the besetting sin of growing-ups, namely or standing still in one place too long or sitting for a long time. The fact that children run, jump and skip so much is certainly good for the feet.

Often special exercises are good for the feet (for grownups as well as children). Walking in socks or stockings around a rug on the outer edge of the feet strengthens the arches, ankles and legs. Trying to pick up the edge of a rug, a pencil or marbles with the toes, is also a good exercise.

In case of any real rough stuff, Fort Le Kef would protect French farmers and muscle open the road to Algiers and Bizerte.

Already in parts of Tunisia, French cornfields have been fired, vines uprooted, and barns destroyed, although most physical assaults have been against natives co-operating with the French.

Truce In Korea Outlook Better

By DREW PEARSON

The White House has clamped a lid on the details, but the final truce offer made by the United Nations should be enough to settle the Korean War. For the new terms are so close to the Communists' own proposal that they will not be able to turn it down without appearing completely insincere about a Korean peace.

All the U. N. Allies fighting in Korea have agreed to the new proposal except South Korea's stubborn President Syngman Rhee, who flatly rejected it. He also instructed the South Korean negotiators to boycott the truce meeting. This could monkey-wrench the entire armistice, since Rhee now commands a South Korean army powerful enough to continue fighting on its own.

In fact, the defiant Rhee was laboring to launch his own offensive against the Communists until Gen. Mark Clark talked him out of it. The South Korean leader has been so balky that Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, who was all set to come home, has been kept on as an adviser to General Clark for the sole purpose of soothing the ruffled Rhee.

Another handicap to the truce talks is the determined opposition of the small, vocal band of Asia-first Senators, led by California's outspoken William Knowland. At this writing, Asia-firsters were trying to arrange a meeting between Senator Knowland and the newly appointed chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Adm. Arthur Radford, in an attempt to toughen the U. N. truce terms.

India To Be Umpire

Meanwhile, the detailed truce terms are as follows:

1. Indian to be chairman of the five-nation armistice commission. Other members: Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Poland. All decisions to be settled by a majority of three. This means India would be the referee, could cast the deciding vote.

2. A two-month time limit for starting the machinery to free prisoners of war. Each prisoner would be screened by a full-five-man board, and each case would be decided by a majority vote. No prisoner would be forced to return home against his will. The question of what to do with the unwilling prisoners would be left to a political conference. If the conference failed to reach a decision, the prisoners would be turned over to the United Nations to be freed.

Concessions Made

3. The Communists would have access to their prisoners in allied camps, but under armed supervision so they could not intimidate prisoners to return home against their will.

4. We rejected the Communist proposal that Poland and Czechoslovakia should send troops to Korea to help supervise the armistice. Instead we proposed that the policing should be done by India.

The above terms represent a concession from our latest offer, though they are almost the same as last year's Indian compromise which we had accepted. They are so close to the Red terms they should almost certainly lead to an armistice if the Communists sincerely want one.

If the Reds reject our proposal, however, the U. N. has agreed to call for a "permanent recess." This would mean breaking off the truce talks, though without closing the door in case the Communists should change their minds and decide to accept our terms.

VALIANT DUTCH FIGHT ON — Operating a crane from a floating barge, workmen erect a new dike from the muddy soil of a farm near Schelpoek, The Netherlands, which has been inundated since last February's disastrous floods. The old dike, severed by the sea, can be seen in the background. Until the new dike is in place the sea will come and go with the tides.

Rural Agencies Will Be Merged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate opponents of President Eisenhower's reorganization plan for the Agriculture Department were left today with only a forlorn hope that the House would block it.

In the Senate Wednesday, a resolution of Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) to reject the plan fell 20 votes short of the number required for adoption. The only Republican to vote for the resolution was Sen. Langer of North Dakota.

Unless the House adopts a resolution of disapproval, the plan will go into effect June 4.

Eisenhower, in submitting it to Congress, said it would make it possible for Secretary of Agriculture Benson to simplify and improve the organization of his department.

Opponents contended the plan would give the secretary of agriculture "blank check" authority and deprive Congress of control over government farm programs.

The plan's backers said it would not permit the secretary to abolish any functions of his department but simply put six of the department's 20 agencies under his direct supervision, in addition to the 10 which already are.

These six agencies are the Rural Electrification Administration, the Forest Service, the Soil Conservation Service, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Farmers Home Administration, and the office of the solicitor.

operate adequately, without being extravagant or wasteful."

Burden Spread Out

Sen. Morris denied the governor's charge that "big business" wrote the bill and that it taxes the "little guy" unfairly.

"The people representing the small grocery store as well as the chain stores, all agreed with us that it was equitable and fair and that no one would be hit unfairly," he asserted.

Speaker Van Valkenburg added that "this tax spreads the burden over our entire economy."

Gov. Williams went on the air at 7:15 p.m., and when he finished at 7:30 the Republicans followed for 15 minutes more.

Both programs were public service broadcasts and were given free air time.

Ceremonies Of May Crowning Held At St. Andrew's

NAHAMA — The May Crowning of the Blessed Virgin at St. Anthony's Church at Wells took place before the 7:30 High Mass on Pentecost Sunday.

A procession composed of all the grade children attending the parish school of religion preceded the crowning. During the procession the rosary was recited. The statue to be crowned was carried in procession on a special device in the care of La Verne Cayemberg, Joseph Gouin, William and James Hardwick.

Lois Ann Cayemberg placed the crown on Our Lady's head—the crown having been carried by George Bernier, followed by members of the first holy communion class.

After the Mass the Catholic members of the graduating class and two members of the Nahama High School faculty, Miss Brown, class adviser and Miss Mary Krutina, superintendent, were guests of the pastor, Father George Brewer, at a breakfast.

Paintings by Addison have appeared in several magazines. A second cover for Country Gentleman is scheduled for next fall.

Costello Loses Bid To Duck Prison Term

NEW YORK (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello has lost another bid to set aside his 18-months prison term, this time on grounds he should have been allowed to serve his time in a "common jail."

He's doing just that, Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled yesterday.

The judge said the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, Mich., where Costello still has nine months to serve for contempt of the Senate, has been designated a "common jail" by the government.

Costello was moved there last December from the Atlanta, Ga., federal penitentiary after he made a similar plea. Last February, the Federal Parole Board rejected his appeal for a parole.

He was sentenced for refusing to answer a number of questions before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

now to negotiate this truce in Korea and if we fail, then let England and our other allies know that we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

Eisenhower, after replying with a single negative to the question, said he wanted to explain his position a bit.

Compromises Difficult

He went on to say he has had a great deal of experience in dealing with coalitions and that it is always a difficult task.

He said it might be easier in certain cases for any one nation to act by itself.

But Eisenhower added, you can't have cooperative action in these great matters only in isolated cases.

He said that if you go it alone in one place, you, of course, have to go it alone elsewhere.

Instead of taking that kind of course, Eisenhower said, there must be compromises which will serve the good of all of us.

Those compromises, he added, must be between local conflicting considerations.

He said no single free nation can live alone in the world, but must have friends.

Eisenhower said he realized that every man is faced with irritations and frustrations in the business of trying to win world peace, and that men find themselves balked.

Wells Township PTA Council Meets At Pine Ridge

The Wells Township PTA Council met Wednesday evening at the Pine Ridge School. Clarence Sundquist, president, presided.

Mrs. Lawrence Beauchamp of the Newhall school had been the Council's delegate to the PTA Convention in Grand Rapids and reported on the convention proceedings.

The group discussed the possibility of obtaining the services of a music teacher to visit each school in the Township. This would give the rural school children the benefit of musical training. Further planning and discussion on this will be necessary.

The three Wells Township schools participating in the hot lunch program will look into the feasibility of canning foods for next year.

The following nominating committee was named: Mrs. Lawrence Beauchamp, Mrs. Lawrence Klug and Mrs. Frank Bender Jr.

The annual Council meeting will be October 28 at the Wells School.

Telephone Workers Ratify New Contract With Michigan Bell

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO Communications Workers union today announced formal ratification of their new contract with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The union said the rank and file membership approved the agreement by a vote of approximately 2½ to 1. It is to be signed by the union and company in Detroit today. It covers 18,000 workers for one year.

A general wage increase of 2¢ to $3 weekly is provided, along with upgrading of certain jobs in 16 communities and other adjustments.

The union said the pay raise averages out to 7.2 cents an hour.

Top pay for operators in Detroit is $63 weekly under the new contract. Outstate, the top pay ranges downward to $50. The upgrading of the 16 communities reduces their differential as compared to Detroit.

None of the companies are under any legal obligation to make changes in the contracts which run to mid-1955. Reuther has contended they are morally obligated under the "living document" theory of labor contracts because of unforeseen price spirals sent up by the Korean war.

it good-naturedly. There was no anger about it. I fight hard, but I fight professionally."

Won't Discuss It

Morse said the "American press as a whole" had failed to present his position "on any issue in the U.S. Senate."

"I say to the people of my state," he said, "that they have not read an accurate story in the Oregon newspapers, outside of the Medford Mail-Tribune, for some five months on any controversy in which the junior senator from Oregon has participated."

The Oregon senator has made several attacks on The Associated Press in recent months.

After the Senate recessed, AP reporter Kelly asked Morse for an explanation of the senator's remarks about Kelly's story. Morse refused to discuss it, and ordered Kelly to leave the room "or I'll have you removed."

The reporter attempted to show Morse a copy of the story and to discuss it with the senator. Morse refused to look at the story, and declared, "I say you lied."

Any-Deer Kill Totals 162,000

LANSING (AP)—A painstaking postcard poll of two and a half per cent of last fall's deer hunters shows the total kill was about 162,000 of them in the special "any deer" season.

The State Conservation Department previously had estimated the kill at about 100,000.

The regular statewide buck season accounted for 56,000 of the total kill, the poll showed.

The 160,000 killed in the northern lower peninsula "any deer" season Nov. 28, 29, and 30 were broken down into 55,000 adult does, 25,000 buck fawns, 23,000 doe fawns and 7,000 adult bucks.

A department statement quoted game specialists as saying the kill in the overbrowsed region was necessary for proper herd management.

The Upper Peninsula contributed 19,000 deer to the kill, the northern lower peninsula 142,000 and the southern lower peninsula 1,000.

Building Cost Varies Widely Through U. S.

A recent 70-city survey of building costs by the Federal Housing Administration shows a wide difference in costs for the same house. The one-floor, basementless, frame test house chosen by the FHA is on a 26x34½-foot foundation, has two bedrooms, living room, kitchen, storage room and bath. Heating plant is not included in the estimates nor are sodding, landscaping, driveway, sidewalks or other outdoor improvements. Data used in estimates were what the insuring office would use if application for insurance on this house were received by the FHA.

Sketch portrays the type of basic test house described in the Federal Housing Administration's report on its 70-city survey of home-building costs. The house was chosen for its adaptability for all areas.

Map shows comparative building costs in some of the 70 cities served by FHA insuring offices. Cleveland, Ohio, was the most expensive, with a $9117 estimate and Long Beach, Calif., the lowest, at $6127.

Blame For Job Slipup On Mrs. Horton Taken By State Department

WASHINGTON (P) — The State Department says it was a "cumbersome mechanism" of its own that caused Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton to lose out on a United Nations assignment.

Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith wrote this explanation to Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.)

The State Department asked the FBI for the routine full investigation report on Mrs. Horton when it was decided to nominate her U.S. delegate to the U. N. Economic and Social Commission.

The report was received April 16 and its evaluation took 10 days. Then it became apparent the nomination "could hardly be properly processed" in time for the opening of the commission's May session.

Smith expressed regret at embarrassment caused Mrs. Horton, wartime commander of the Waves and former president of Wellesley College.

Straw Homburg New Style For Men Of America

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, and meet the new straw Homburg. Ever since President Eisenhower donned a Homburg for his inauguration, Homburgs of all types and styles have flooded the market.

This latest one, for summer wear, is obviously the last straw. It's just one of the gay new styles for men's heads this summer. The straw Homburg is old hat in Europe, however, where they've worn for years. But it took a GOP landslide and President Eisenhower's high-level decision to bring it out in the open in the U. S.

The thing looks just like a felt Homburg, but it's in lightweight straw. The edges are colored and bound like its heavyweight brother. It's just the thing to wear at, say, a summer inauguration.

One manufacturer. James B. Lee, president of the Frank H. Lee Co., thinks the whole trend to gayer hats is psychological. He sees it as man's desire to break out in color after a winter in dull, drab, conservative clothes.

These shades are worn, mostly, with contrasting bands. You can get bands in such delicate shades as scarlet, purple, yellow, orange and pagoda gold. You can, if you're daring, get changeable bands, and wear a purple one today and a pagoda gold job tomorrow.

Hat manufacturers see this as the biggest summer for hot-weather hats the industry has seen. And they feel it's because men's wardrobes have, of late,

Inland Waterway Needed By Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (P)—A 700-mile inland waterway using the Parana and Tiete rivers could give a tremendous boost to Southern Brazil, a North American technician says.

The waterway, Warren says, is the pride of the hat industry. They like it, but it may turn out to be the straw that broke the Homburg's back.

OPENING DINNER LAST EVENING AT HIGHLAND CLUB

A successful opening dinner was held last evening at the Highland Golf Club with 82 members in attendance.

The dinner was served at 6:30 following golf, and bridge was played later in the evening. Apple blossoms were effectively arranged in the decorative theme of the opening party.

The King was a fine tennis player who had competed at Wimbleton.

The King turned to the Queen and said to her: "Darling, Lilibet and Margaret must learn to play tennis, otherwise they won't be able to enjoy house parties when they grow up."

One Monday, Princess Elizabeth came to me in great excitement. "Papa thinks it's time we were taught tennis," she said. "He's getting a man to coach us."

And so I prepared to join the Princesses to watch while they learned how to play tennis.

The court at Windsor lies below the level of the drive and is pleasantly situated in a sort of grass-covered hollow.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor to Her Majesty

XX

The Princesses would always get plenty of exercise from our walks, or riding, or cycling. They did not lack fresh air.

One day, while we were at the Royal Lodge, soon after King George had come to the Throne, I took them for a walk through the woods. They loved the woods and went there often. They were always interested in the varieties of wild flowers and the calls of the birds.

We were puzzled by the relics we found. No matter how peaceful or how secluded a wood is, you will always find somewhere in it a very old and rusty tin bath. We would often come upon these domestic relics—and others—quite a mile from the nearest road. The Princesses were puzzled by them. "But who would cart a bath all this way?" Princess Elizabeth asked me one day. "Why hide it in the middle of a wood?"

As the Princesses and I came back toward the tennis court which at the Royal Lodge is entirely surrounded by a cypress hedge so that only the nets can be seen from the house, we heard the sound of a ball being hit about the court.

ROYAL COUPLE PLAYING Always curious, Princess Margaret pushed her head between two branches and peered through. "It's Mummy and Papa," she told me excitedly, "playing tennis."

After that we all had to see. The gate was on the far side of the court, quite a long way round. The hedge was not too firm so we clambered through.

The King and Queen were playing alone. I thought what a pretty picture she made. She had on a cool print dress and a large shady hat, which, as usual, did not seem to disturb her at all.

Never having seen the Queen playing tennis before, I was amazed at the strength and accuracy of her back-hand drive and her grace on the court.

One Monday, Princess Elizabeth was taking it very seriously.

But more important things were coming up for Princess Elizabeth. She was presently to join the Army, and tennis, for the time being, was forgotten.

(To Be Continued)

Now my plans for a peaceful afternoon were shattered. Princess Elizabeth had a naturally powerful stroke, but as yet her

Steamer Ashley Damaged Slightly At Inland Tuesday

The Steamer Ashley incurred minor damage when a gust of wind swung it against the Inland Lime and Stone Company dock at Port Inland about 3 p. m. Tuesday.

The strong wind swung the ship around as it was tying up at the dock. A steel coping channel in a dock angle ripped a small slit in the Ashley's bow about eight feet above water line. The ship also knocked down a catwalk leading from the dock to a pile cluster.

A steel plate was welded over the cut by Inland workers.

The Ashley completed loading and cleared the harbor at 1 a. m. yesterday with a cargo of open hearth stone for the Inland Steel Company plant at Indiana Harbor. It was delayed 2½ hours by the accident.

Tied up at the dock for loading at the time of the accident was the Steamer Stanton which also took a cargo of flux stone to Indiana Harbor.

The Wolverines led team batting with .288 with Iowa second at .282 and Ohio State third with .273. Illinois was eighth with .223.

Russ Meyer Old Hand At Temper Outbursts

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (P)—Russ Meyer, the Brooklyn Dodger eccentric, has just been fined and suspended again for blowing his wig.

The Mad Monk, as he is known to those about him, isn't one of the best of modern pitchers, but he is good enough to be convinced in his own mind that he should win every time out. So, when things go wrong he gets mad at somebody, even if it's only himself.

When he's sore he shares his feelings. When umpire Augie Donatelli failed to give him a single strike on 11 consecutive efforts the other day, Russ reacted in a manner that we consider completely normal. He tossed the resin bag into the air, and, upon being automatically ejected, carried his feud with Donatelli into the dugout, using gestures.

HAS LONG RECORD

You may bet that the $100 fine and three-day suspension plattered on the competitor from Peru, Ill., will do nothing to banish his fire.

The game's most red-necked thrower has been in and out of the soup regularly ever since he reported to the Chicago Cubs in 1946. He gained quick fame among his teammates for his growth of the Pony League which operated in Escanaba for the first time last summer. The League was expanded to include more boys this year.

Little Bigger League is made up of six teams, sponsored by the Elks Club, Delta Hardware, AFL Unions, Kiwanis Club, Escanaba Paper Co. and Insurance Association.

The first game will be played Saturday afternoon at 3. The middle game of the tripleheader is set for 6 and the windup for 7:30. An American League soft-

Saxton Wins Over Miceli, Ready For Champ Kid Gavilan

DETROIT (P)—“I'm ready for any weight in the world,” said Johnny Saxton Wednesday night after outpointing Joe Miceli, a fellow New Yorker, in a televised 10-round at Olympic Stadium.

The unbeaten New Yorker had Miceli, 24-year-old ex-GI, in trouble against the ropes in early rounds but Joe refused to go down.

At the end of the fourth round both fighters kept punching away for at least five seconds after the bell. The referee and handlers from both corners finally had to part them.

Miceli, 147 $\frac{1}{2}$ , rallied in the closing rounds but Saxton, 147 3/4, had built up too big a lead.

A crowd of 4,881 paid a gross of $11,699.99 to see Saxton win his 39th pro fight. Only a draw mars his otherwise perfect record.

ball game will close Saturday night's program at Memorial Field starting at 9. Mayor Robert LeMire will throw out the Little Bigger League first ball.

Team managers today announced their starting pitchers for the openers.

Bob Hansen is slated to hurl for the Elks who tangle with Insurance Association at 3. John Vadas gets the mound call for the Insurance Association club.

Windup At 7:30

In the 6 o'clock game, Bill Rangueute will go for Delta Hardware against Don Merrier on the hill for Kiwanis.

In the windup, Don Trottier toes the slab for AFL and Bob Rodman gets the nod for Paper Co.

For the remainder of the season Little Bigger League games will be played on Mondays and Saturdays. Monday games will be played at 6 p. m. at Memorial Field, Royce Park and the city ball diamond. Saturday games will be played at Memorial Field at 10 a. m., 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.

Senate Bill Gives Baseball New Rights

WASHINGTON (P)—A three-man subcommittee has unanimously approved a Senate bill to give organized baseball the right to regulate radio and television broadcasts of its games.

This action, sending the measure on to the full Senate Commerce Committee, was taken Wednesday.

Sen. Edwin Johnson D-Colo., who introduced the bill, is president of the class A Western League. He said the bill is needed because the Department of Justice has ruled that, under existing laws, organized baseball cannot impose radio-TV restrictions without violating anti-trust laws.

HOUSTON (P)—The University of Houston's cinderella baseball team came from behind a number of times to turn back Oklahoma University Sooners, 8-7 and 5-3, here Wednesday night to win the Region 5 championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Harvey Haddix, rookie hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, was nicknamed “The Kitten” because of his resemblance to Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, former Card pitching star.

trades against himself in the locker room, accompanied by the tossing of cleated shoes, chairs and other convenient objects.

When the Cub couldn't stand the strain any longer, they sold Russ to the Phils and he turned in a fine 17-8 season in 1949 for his new club, his best to date.

Broke His Toe

The story got around that the man still didn't like to lose. He broke a toe when he kicked some unyielding furniture after one loss. Another time, after being yanked from the box, his mates were mildly surprised to find him bumping his head hard against a wall and saying savagely “I hope it hurts.”

Coch Benny Bengough, who often was given that chore by manager Steve O'Neill last season said he kept both dukes conveniently free when he approached Russ “You can't ever tell about him,” Benny said.

Meyer had a major ruckus with Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers in '51, for which he was fined, and in the same year managed to work in a punch at a photographer. At the close of last season the Phils decided it was some other team's turn. Their nerves were showing wear.

General manager Gabe Paul said, “I do not believe the story” and he added the front office would not be influenced by any such petition.

Hornsby said, “If the Reds are in revolt it's news to me.”

Grady Hatton, the club's player representative, called the story “ridiculous.” Third baseman Bobby Adams termed it “a lot of bunk” and he was echoed by pitcher Howie Judson and first baseman Ted Kluszewski.

The Journal's story said Hornsby and relief pitcher Frank Smith had words last Monday when Smith threw too late to catch a runner.

“That's a lot of baloney,” said Smith.

Wayne Anderson, the trainer, also said “I positively have not heard of any anti-Hornsby movement.”

Hornsby came to the Redlegs as manager late last season after having been fired from a similar job with the St. Louis Browns. That dismissal stemmed from a player revolt and differences with owner Bill Veck.

Player Revolt Report Branded False By Reds

CINCINNATI (P)—The general manager, the manager, players and even the trainer insisted today there is no revolt brewing among members of the Cincinnati Redlegs against manager Rogers Hornsby.

The flood of statements came after the Milwaukee Journal published a story saying Milwaukee Braves' players had been told by some of the Redlegs that Hornsby “may not last two more weeks.” The story also declared a Cincinnati baseball writer had said he had heard of a petition being circulated by a player to have Hornsby dismissed.

General manager Gabe Paul said, “I do not believe the story” and he added the front office would not be influenced by any such petition.

Leaders Keep Pace In American Association

By The Associated Press

League-leading Kansas City and second-place Indianapolis remained one game apart in the American Association race Wednesday night as both grabbed victories.

Art Schallock scattered 12 hits in hurling the Blues to an 8-1 decision over St. Paul. Kansas City also collected a dozen hits, including Elston Howard's homer and Vic Power's two singles and a pair of doubles.

Indianapolis belted four opposing pitchers for 13 blows in beating Columbus 6-5.

Powers won behind the strong right arm of John Henderson who set Channing down with two hits, a triple in the third and a single in the seventh.

The current contract with the Pacific Coast Conference expires with the 1954 New Year's Day game.

Six Big Ten schools have voted to continue the bowl series and four went against it. Those in favor are Indiana, Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue, Illinois and Iowa. On the other side are Michigan State, Minnesota, Northwestern and Wisconsin.

His defeat also made it certain that, for the first time since 1949, there will be a Briton in the British amateur final. For the past three years, the finals have been all-American affairs.

In the windup, Don Trottier toes the slab for AFL and Bob Rodman gets the nod for Paper Co.

For the remainder of the season Little Bigger League games will be played on Mondays and Saturdays. Monday games will be played at 6 p. m. at Memorial Field, Royce Park and the city ball diamond. Saturday games will be played at Memorial Field at 10 a. m., 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.

Expect OK Today On Rose Bowl Pact

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (P)—Official Big Ten approval of a renewed three-year Rose Bowl football pact was expected today at a meeting of the conference's faculty committee.

Dodger Catcher Smacks Two Homers To Win

Campanella Clubs Giants

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

No sling shots for Roy Campanella—when it comes to killing Giants he clubs 'em to death.

Going into last night's game at Ebbets Field the New York Giants knew they had the secret formula for whipping their hated Brooklyn rivals. It was simple—stop Campanella.

The formula was right. But the Giants forgot how they were supposed to make it work.

The New Yorkers were nursing a 2-1 lead in the fourth inning. Roy promptly planted a Jim Hearn pitch in the left field seats to tie it.

Gets Another Crack

With two out in the last of the ninth the Giants again were ahead, 3-2. A walk and an error gave Campy another chance to bat.

Campanella blasted another one into the midst of the left field customers and the Dodgers won it, 5-3.

The performance was no one-night fluke. The powerfully-built Brooklyn catcher has been belting the cover off the ball all spring. The homers were his 15th and 16th, considerably ahead of the pace Babe Ruth maintained the year he hit 60.

Campanella's one-man rampage brought the Dodgers' season record against the Giants to .500—four victories in eight games. But it didn't gain them any ground in the hot National League race where the Milwaukee Braves kept rolling in front with a 9-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Cards Win Too

The second place St. Louis Cardinals also won, 6-3, over Cincinnati for their eighth success in their last 10 starts. The Cards trail the Braves by a game and a half with the Dodgers another half length behind. Philadelphia, sandwiched between the Dodgers and Giants in fourth place, smothered Pittsburgh, 14-2, in a twilight game but lost a night contest to the Pirates, 8-6.

In the American League the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers battled 15 innings to a 2-2 tie and had to quit because of the league curfew. No inning can start after 12:50 a.m., local time. Even without a decision the White Sox took over second place in pursuit of the New York Yankees since the St. Louis Browns ended a nine-game losing streak to stop the Cleveland Indians, 5-1. The loss dropped Cleveland into third.

The Philadelphia Athletics edged the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, on Gus Zernial's eighth inning home run and the Yankees defeated Washington, 3-1, on Eddie Lopat's three-hit pitching.

Ken Raffensberger, who specializes in beating the Cardinals, didn't fool them a bit last night. He gave up four runs and lasted less than an inning. Red Schoen-dienst, the league's leading hitter, clouted Cincinnati pitching for a home run and a pair of singles to raise his average to .386. Mike Clark, normally a relief man, started for St. Louis and got the decision although he gave way to Al Brazle in the sixth.

Good Relief Job

Milwaukee benefited from four innings of hitless relief pitching by Johnny Antonelli after the Cubs had chased starter Jim Wilson with a three run fifth inning.

Robin Roberts won his seventh game of the year and his 12th in a row over the Pirates in the first half of the twilight-night double bill at Pittsburgh, but the Phillies,

Tigers Still Can't Win, Play 15-Inning Tie, 2-2

CHICAGO (AP) —The cellar-dwelling Detroit Tigers left here today still wondering what it takes to win a ball game.

The frustrated Bengals, who have dropped five of their last six games in the ninth inning, fought the Chicago White Sox to a 15-inning 2-2 stand-off Wednesday night.

Under a curfew ruling which prohibits the start of an inning after 1 a.m., the game was halted after the Sox completed their turn at bat in the 15th.

Officially, the game does not go into the record books and will be replayed at a later date.

Tight All the Way

Unofficially it was a tight battle all the way with the Tigers coming from behind to tie the score in the ninth inning on a single by Matt Batts, a walk and two Chicago errors.

Art Houtteman started the four-hour and 23-minute marathon for the Tigers. Before giving way to Dave Madison in the ninth, Houtteman gave up single runs in the first and seventh innings.

Ferris Fain singled in the first after two were out, took second on a walk, and scored on a single by Vern Stephens.

Detroit scored its first tally in the fifth off Sox starter Joe Dobson. Houtteman, on first base on a fielder's choice, took second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Don Lund.

Both Get 12 Hits

Chicago picked up its other run in the seventh on successive doubles by Jim Rivera and Fain.

Harry Dorish relieved Dobson in the fifth and finished the long battle for the White Sox.

Both teams collected twelve hits with Madison and Dorish giving up three each in the overtime grind.

Chicago loaded the bases in the eleventh inning but failed to score when Fred Hatfield disposed of an easy grounder by Vern Stephens.

The Tigers never threatened in the extra innings and only placed a man on second in the thirteenth frame.

The Tigers open an 18-game home stand Friday against the St. Louis Browns. The Browns are the only club the Tigers have failed to beat this year. St. Louis won the first four meeting between the two clubs.

A single game Friday will be followed by a Memorial Day doubleheader.

Hitters Snap Out

Grimm wasn't just talking. Sid Gordon has started to pound the ball as cleanup hitter and Joe Adcock is swinging lustily in the No. 6 spot. Andy Pafko snapped out of a slump Wednesday night against the Cubs with three for four, including a home run.

Max Surkont is the league's top hurler with a 6-0 record. Lew Burdette, chief fireman, has 2-0; southpaw Warren Spahn is next at 4-1, trailed by rookie lefties Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle with 3-1 and 2-1, respectively.

"We're in business for sure with a .500 roadtrip," said Grimm.

One game at St. Louis Friday and two Memorial Day wind up the current set. The Braves then stop off at Cincinnati enroute East.

The huge home crowds have been a definite factor in the team's play. The club has won 12 of 16 at home in the span and has 14 of 18 for the season. The total gate for 16 dates is $66,768.

"The kind of home crowds we've been getting definitely has an effect on the play of even professional athletes," said Grimm. "It's one of those things and it's great."

Filmland Dogs Live Better Than People

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "A dog's life" can have a different meaning in Hollywood. Some local dogs live better than people.

They are the lucky canines whose owners can make the grade at the Double-E Ranch, exclusive hostelry for dogs. Listed among the guests are pets of some of the best-known names in Hollywood. The place is jammed most of the time, so reservations must be made months in advance.

Human Visitors Sprayed

"We're crowded to our 52-dog capacity right now," said Mrs. Edith Kienast, who operates the ranch with her husband, Ernest. "The reason is that so many of our patrons have gone to the corona."

You reach the Double-E Ranch after traveling miles over unpaved roads into a rugged section of the Santa Monica Mountains. The place consists of some low, neat buildings nestled in a wooden canyon. When I arrived, I was greeted by Mrs. Kienast, a small, energetic woman who talks electrically about her favorite subject.

"This isn't work for me," she said. "It's fun. I've loved dogs

Climb Is Easy But Descent Is Tough

DENVER (AP) — So what goes up must come down, eh? Just try telling that to a balky horse, says Donald Dean, 22, of Denver.

Dean borrowed a horse from a friend, and rode to the top of Table Mountain near Golden, west of Denver. But when he started down, the horse apparently decided the going was too steep and refused to budge.

So Dean built a fire and tried to keep warm during the night until searchers reached him the next morning. The other horses coaxed Dean's steed into making the descent.

U.S. Army Mess Serves National Dish Of Korea

WASHINGTON — A United States Army mess in Pusan is turning out the Korean national dish, kimchi, a notably pungent pickled vegetable combination.

The kimchi is not prepared for U.S. troops, whose tastes have not developed along Korean lines, says the National Geographic Society, but for South Koreans who drive and repair trucks for a transportation battalion.

Some Americans have tasted kimchi once. Koreans eat it all the time, for breakfast, lunch and dinner. They call it a health food and one that adds interest to meals otherwise composed largely of boiled rice.

Made In Layers

Kimchi comes in many varieties, most of which have a strong resemblance to sauerkraut. It usually is made from one of three basic ingredients, which sometimes are combined. The three bases for kimchi are daikon, a radish-like vegetable, Chinese cabbage soaked in brine, or cucumber.

Whatever the base, kimchi is enlivened with such things as leeks, onions, garlic, spices, hot peppers, ginger and dry salt shrimp.

Summer cabbage kimchi is probably the easiest to make. Chinese cabbage is sliced into small pieces and a layer is placed in the bottom of a crock or jar. On top of this goes a layer of salt, sliced hot peppers and leeks, and a little dry salted shrimp for that extra flavor. Left To Ripen

Alternate layers of cabbage and the pepper-salt-leek-shrimp mixture are added until the jar is nearly full. It is then left in a warm place to age and ripen for a few days.

Kimchi ages vigorously, so round stones are placed on top to hold it down. The flavor of the added ingredients mixes slowly with the cabbage, daikon or cucumber, until the whole is a highly aromatic mass that allegedly smells as good to a Korean as fresh-baked bread does to a westerner.

There is an advantage to the pungent odor of kimchi, western troops maintain. They say it has such a marked effect on the breath that there is little danger of being ambushed by North Koreans if the wind is in the right direction.

Capital Wirepuller Grunewald To Hear News From Judge

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, fabulous Washington wirepuller, is scheduled to get the news from the judge today—whether he must go to jail and, if so, for how long.

Grunewald, who has specialized in high-level capital connections for many years, is due to be sentenced by U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff for contempt of Congress.

The "mystery man of Washington" could get up to a year in jail plus a $1,000 fine.

He pleaded guilty March 17 to a single charge of contempt.

Judge Holtzoff told him then he would take into account, in fixing sentence, his cooperation with House tax scandal investigators.

William H. Collins, Grunewald's attorney, was ready to appeal to the judge to be lenient on the ground that Grunewald answered all questions material to the tax scandal inquiry and that he is in bad health.

The indictment of Grunewald grew out of his refusal last year to answer almost none of the committee's questions.

The indictment contained 31 charges of contempt, but the government agreed to drop all but one when Grunewald pleaded guilty. The remaining one was based on his silence to this question:

"What is your full name, Mr. Grunewald?"

After his plea of guilty, Grunewald talked more freely.

He told the committee he is a sick and broke man.

The Grunewald story included fees of $4,000 and $7,500 merely for introducing people; private investigations for important persons and prominent companies, for which he got well paid; gifts, loans and favors to government officials without asking favors in return.

The opossum of the southern United States belongs to one of the oldest living families of mammals. His ancestors, says the National Geographic Society, prowled the earth with now extinct dinosaurs some 70,000,000 years ago.
